

COLIVING
OPERATIONS

ISSUE NO. 01
THE WHOLE-HOUSE ISSUE
SUMMER 2026

The CoLiving Edit

every room • every item • every reason

92 pieces, seven rooms — the complete master list behind a working co-living portfolio

Shot on location at 8139 Kenton Street with field notes from 50+ managed properties

The Thermostat Wars, the Fridge Doctrine, and the 2 a.m. lockout that wasn't

FROM THE PUBLISHER · COLIVING OPERATIONS EDUCATION

The Wednesday Room

CoLiving Operations Premium — the working group behind this magazine

Every Wednesday, operators from across the country get on a live session with Dave Edwards that regularly runs past four hours — real houses, real numbers, real problems fixed on the call. Premium membership includes every session recording, the foundational SOP library this issue quotes from, the Lease Addendum Essentials module, the recommended bedroom setup class, a three-day intensive on strategy, rehab, and operations, and the published book.

- ◆ Live weekly working sessions, recorded
- ◆ The SOP library: vetting, turnovers, house rules, maintenance
- ◆ Lease Addendum Essentials + bedroom setup class
- ◆ Three-day operator intensive included

$97/month

JOIN AT SKOOL.COM/COLIVING-OPERATIONS

HANDS-ON? SELF-MANAGE LIKE A MACHINE

Join the working group and take the SOP library — skool.com/coliving-operations

HANDS-OFF? SKIP THE HOMEWORK ENTIRELY

Let our team run the machine for you — full-service management, page 59

Free tier: community access and a live Q&A the second Wednesday of every month.

The CoLiving Edit

ISSUE NO. 01 · THE WHOLE-HOUSE ISSUE · SUMMER 2026

EDITOR & OPERATOR

Dave Edwards, Founder, CoLiving Operations LLC

ON LOCATION

8139 Kenton Street, Houston, TX 77028 — a working CoLiving home. Interior and exterior photography from the property's listing set.

PRODUCT IMAGERY

Manufacturer product photography via Amazon and the CoLiving Operations recommended-furnishings catalog.

CONTACT

dave@colivingoperations.com
colivingoperations.com

SOURCES & STANDARDS

Commentary throughout this issue is drawn from the CoLiving Operations operating record: SOP-016 (Furnishings Master List), SOP-017 (Bedroom Setup), SOP-018 (Window Treatments), SOP-019 (Climate Control), SOP-020 (Office Setup), SOP-021 (Storage Standardization), SOP-024 (Recommended Furnishings Catalog), SOP-037 (Bedroom Spec), and operational meeting notes and interviews, 2025–2026.

RATINGS & PRICES

Star ratings and review counts were read from Amazon product pages the week of publication and will drift over time. Prices are printed as ranges for the same reason; Amazon sets final pricing and availability.

DISCLOSURE

Product links for every item in this issue live at colivingoperations.com/furnishings, where CoLiving Operations earns from qualifying purchases as an Amazon Associate. This document contains no affiliate links.

Furniture isn't décor here. It's operations.

Contents

SEVEN ROOMS · SEVEN FEATURES · 92 ITEMS · ONE STANDARD

02 THE WEDNESDAY ROOM — COLIVING OPERATIONS PREMIUM

Advertisement

05 EVERY ITEM, EVERY ROOM, EVERY REASON

Editor's Letter

06 BY THE NUMBERS

The Operating Record

07 WELCOME TO THE MACHINE

Feature

09 THE COLIVING MATRIX

The Framework

10 THE BEDROOM

Department 01

19 THE LIVING CATALOG —
COLIVINGOPERATIONS.COM/FURNISHINGS

Advertisement

20 THE THERMOSTAT WARS

Feature

22 THE BATHROOM

Department 02

26 THE WATER PLAYBOOK

Feature

27 THE ENTRY

Department 03

31 THE 2 A.M. LOCKOUT THAT WASN'T

Feature

33 HALLS & HOUSE SYSTEMS

Department 04

37 THE MASTERMIND EDUVACATION · CANCÚN

Advertisement

38 THE FRIDGE DOCTRINE

Feature

40 THE KITCHEN

Department 05

45 ANATOMY OF A TURN

Feature

47 UTILITY & LAUNDRY

Department 06

51 WHAT WE LEARNED THE EXPENSIVE WAY

Feature

53 THE ADMIN CLOSET

Department 07

59 COLIVING OPERATIONS PROPERTY SERVICES

Advertisement

60 ASK THE OPERATOR

Column

62 ONE HOUSE, EDITED

Photo Essay

68 THE INDEX

Reference

70 PRICED ON SITE + THE TIP SHEET

Reference

71 DON'T TYPE. SCAN.

Advertisement

74 THE SETUP CHECKLIST

EDITOR'S LETTER

Every item. Every room. Every reason.

The complete master list, annotated — nothing held back.

Ask an owner what furnishing a shared home takes and they'll name the bed. This issue names the other ninety-one things: the hair catcher that saves the plumber call, the right-angle plug that powers a gateway inside a lockbox, the sign that keeps law enforcement on your side of the argument. All of it, room by room, with the reason it made the cut printed underneath.

The commentary comes from our own operating record — the furnishing SOPs, the supply-closet inventory system, and a year of meeting notes where these items get discussed the way most companies discuss payroll. When we say the ceiling fan is there because the thermostat is locked, that's not a theory. There's a transcript.

Inside: seven feature stories from the field, an Ask-the-Operator column, and three pages about what we do when we're not publishing magazines. Prices shift weekly, so we print ranges. The exact products we buy — linked live — are one address away: colivingoperations.com/furnishings.

Dave Edwards

FOUNDER, COLIVING OPERATIONS

THE LIST BEHIND THE LIST

By the numbers.

Every standard in this issue was paid for in turnovers. The receipts, in brief:

50+

PROPERTIES MANAGED

340+

ROOMS FURNISHED

1,000+

RESIDENTS MOVED IN

200+

BED FRAMES · ZERO FAILURES

92

ITEMS IN THIS ISSUE

11

MARKETS, ONE STANDARD

2 hrs

OWNER TIME PER WEEK

$20

THE ITEM WE COUNT LIKE CASH

Figures from the CoLiving Operations operating record, mid-2026. The bed-frame count is the one we're proudest of and the cheapest line on this page.

THE OPERATING PHILOSOPHY

Welcome to the Machine

Four quadrants separate a chaotic room-rental from a business that runs without you. Most operators never find out which one they're standing in.

At the CoLiving Conference, Dave Edwards presents a two-axis matrix he calls the path from chaos to order. On one axis sits how much structure a house runs on. On the other, how much harmony the residents actually experience. Every shared-housing operation lands in one of four quadrants, and most operators can name their quadrant within a sentence of hearing the labels.

The Commune is where nearly everyone starts: high chaos, few systems, every problem treated like the first time it has ever happened. The Hearth is the owner-occupied house with good vibes and no paperwork — warm, but fragile. The Hospitality Brand is the beautiful hacker-house with fresh flowers and a yoga deck; it photographs wonderfully and burns money to maintain, and operators who build one often backslide the moment attention drifts.

Then there is the quadrant this magazine is printed from: the Machine. High order, high repeatability, standards that hold across markets. The same bed frame in Houston and Denver. The same thermostat in every zone, the same lock on every door, the same protector on every mattress, replaced at every turn, counted on a monthly report.

The furnishings in this issue are not a mood board. They are the physical layer of the Machine — each one chosen because it survives turnover, ships tomorrow, and never has to be re-decided. When a decision is made once and enforced forever, an owner's week shrinks from forty hours to two. That is the entire argument, and the next seventy pages are the evidence.

“When a decision is made once and enforced forever, an owner's week shrinks from forty hours to two.”

THE OPERATING PHILOSOPHY · FIELD NOTES

Sourced from CoLiving Operations meeting notes and operating SOPs, 2025–2026.

Rather own the results than the process? The team that runs the Machine takes on new portfolios — page 59.

The CoLiving Matrix

From chaos to order — four ways to run a shared home. Find your quadrant; the furnishings follow.

THE HEARTH

Owner-occupied warmth with no paperwork. Genuine community, fragile economics — one bad month from the Commune.

THE HOSPITALITY BRAND

High harmony, high cost. The yoga-deck hacker house that photographs beautifully and burns cash to maintain. Operators backslide the moment attention drifts.

THE COMMUNE

High chaos, few systems. Every problem is treated like the first time it has ever happened. Where nearly everyone starts — and where burnout lives.

THE MACHINE

High order, high repeatability. Standards that hold across markets, decisions made once and enforced forever. This magazine is printed from here.

← CHAOS · ORDER →

FOUR WAYS TO RUN A SHARED HOME

From Dave Edwards' CoLiving Conference presentation. See "Welcome to the Machine," page 7.

Department 01

The Bedroom

The room residents actually rate — and the one that decides whether they stay. Every piece here survives turnover and still photographs like a finished home.

28 ITEMS · SHOT AT 8139 KENTON STREET, HOUSTON

The Editor's Pick

METAL PLATFORM BED FRAME

This folding steel platform stands 14 inches high and needs no box spring — and no tools. It unfolds out of the box and locks into place in about two minutes, with a full room of storage underneath.

We have more than two hundred of these in service and have never replaced one. We choose metal over wood on purpose: it doesn't squeak, it doesn't wobble, and there is no slat to snap at two in the morning.

Operator's note: the frame is the two-minute part. The whole room — bed, protector, drapes, desk, lock — goes from boxes to photo-ready in under an hour, and standardization is the reason. Two hundred frames in, we have never replaced one.

★ 4.7 · 106,000+ ratings

$85–$130

SHOP THE LIST · COLIVINGOPERATIONS.COM/FURNISHINGS

The Comfort Standard

GREEN TEA MEMORY FOAM MATTRESS

The Zinus 10-inch is medium-firm and carries a ten-year warranty. It ships in a box that fits up any staircase and expands fully within two days.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST Running one mattress SKU across the whole portfolio makes every reorder simple — we even converted our stray queens to fulls to keep it that way. A cheap mattress once cost us two residents, and we never repeated the mistake.

★ 4.3 · 168,000+ ratings

$200–$250

EDITOR'S PICK

The Insurance Policy

ENCAPSULATION MATTRESS PROTECTOR

This waterproof terry cover zips fully around the mattress, so spills, stains, and bed bugs all stop at the zipper.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST It is the highest-return item in the room. A brand-new protector goes on at every turnover — never one that was washed and reused — and our cleaning team reports protector inventory to us monthly. That is how seriously we take a twenty-dollar item.

◆ DEPLOYED AS STANDARD · COLIVING OPERATIONS PROPERTY SERVICES

★ 4.5 · 103,000+ ratings

$15–$25

The Quiet Essential

OPEN-SHELF NIGHTSTAND

Three open tiers, clean lines, and nothing that can break or stick.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST Our house rule says either the nightstand or the lamp must provide outlets. This one keeps the price down and lets the lamp handle the charging.

$15–$25

The Multitasker

BEDSIDE LIGHT WITH OUTLETS

One bedside unit combines a lamp, three outlets, and four USB ports, with a long cord for awkward layouts.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST Residents expect to charge their devices where they sleep. This unit ends extension-cord clutter before it starts, which is the difference between a room that photographs clean and one that collects cables.

★ 4.6 · 1,700+ ratings

$15–$25

EVERY ITEM ON THIS PAGE IS LINKED LIVE AT COLIVINGOPERATIONS.COM/FURNISHINGS

The Disappearing Act FOLDING DESK

The desk arrives assembled, folds flat, and slides under the bed whenever a resident doesn't want it.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST It adds work-from-home value without permanently spending the floor space. Small rooms stay flexible, and the listing still gets to say a desk is included.

$60–$85

The Long Shift MESH-BACK OFFICE CHAIR

A ventilated mesh back and honest padding hold up to daily use.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST It comes in several colors, which doubles as quiet inventory control: when chairs wander between rooms, you know at a glance which one belongs where.

$25–$40

The Cable-Killer SMART TV

The Insignia Fire TV comes with its apps built in. Residents sign into their own accounts, and the house never fields a television question.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST There is no cable contract, no setup call, and no box to lose at turnover. Reviewers keep calling it perfect for a guest room — and a CoLiving bedroom is a guest room with a lease.

★ 4.1 · 4,800+ ratings

$85–$130

The Forgiving One TV WALL MOUNT

It installs into studs and forgives an install that sits a degree off level.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST Keeping the screen off the furniture protects both the screen and the furniture, and it trims damage claims at turnover.

$10–$15

EVERY ITEM ON THIS PAGE IS LINKED LIVE AT COLIVINGOPERATIONS.COM/FURNISHINGS

The Sleep Switch BLACKOUT DRAPES

These grommet-top blackout panels come in colors that can tell rooms apart, and they wash clean between residents.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST Blackout is the single biggest sleep upgrade a room can get, and better sleep keeps residents longer. Reviewers keep using the word expensive about a curtain that isn't.

★ 4.7 · 61,000+ ratings

$15–$25

The Span HEAVY-DUTY CURTAIN ROD

The rod extends across multiple window widths and anchors into studs.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST One rod SKU fits nearly every window we meet, and it outlasts the curtains it carries.

$10–$15

The Illusion of Control CEILING FAN

This 42-inch fan runs three speeds, reverses for winter, and takes ordinary bulbs on purpose: a resident can swap a bulb, while an integrated LED panel would need an electrician.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST Our thermostats are locked, so the fan is the comfort control residents actually get. It moves air, trims the cooling bill, and gives every room its own weather.

★ 4.4 · 360+ ratings

$85–$130

EDITOR'S PICK

The Non-Negotiable INTERCONNECTED SMOKE + CO ALARMS

Ten-year sealed batteries and wireless interconnection link every bedroom and hallway. When one alarm sounds, they all sound.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST One device covers safety, liability, and compliance at once — and it makes smoking violations instantly obvious. One reviewer credits the set with catching a fire early enough to matter.

◆ DEPLOYED AS STANDARD · COLIVING OPERATIONS PROPERTY SERVICES

★ 4.5 · 1,400+ ratings

$200–$250

EVERY ITEM ON THIS PAGE IS LINKED LIVE AT COLIVINGOPERATIONS.COM/FURNISHINGS

EDITOR'S PICK

*The GatekeeperSIFELY SMART LOCK

Every bedroom door gets a punch-code handle lock. We chose Bluetooth deliberately, because Bluetooth sips battery where WiFi locks drain it; a gateway in the hallway puts them all online anyway.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST Codes start working the hour a lease signs and stop the hour it ends. There are no key exchanges and no locksmith line item — and no deadbolts on bedroom doors, which are a code violation waiting to happen in most cities.

◆ DEPLOYED AS STANDARD · COLIVING OPERATIONS PROPERTY SERVICES

★ 4.4 · verified buyers

$40–$60

*The 2 A.M. AnswerKEYBOX

A keybox mounts beside each door with the room's mechanical backup key inside, clipped to a tether screwed into the wall so it can never walk away.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST The system is idiot-proof in the best sense. When a lock battery dies at two in the morning, the fix is a code read over the phone rather than a drive across town.

◆ DEPLOYED AS STANDARD · COLIVING OPERATIONS PROPERTY SERVICES

UNDER $10

*The ReassuranceDOOR CHAIN

It adds a few dollars of visible security to every bedroom door.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST Perceived safety drives retention, and this is the cheapest perception win in the house.

UNDER $10

*The WayfinderDOOR NUMBERS

Every bedroom door gets a clear number.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST Vendor visits, cleanings, and move-ins become self-explanatory. Nobody has to call and ask which room is theirs.

UNDER $10

EVERY ITEM ON THIS PAGE IS LINKED LIVE AT COLIVINGOPERATIONS.COM/FURNISHINGS

The Two-Minute Gallery WALL ART FRAMES

We hang one matching 11x14 frame in every bedroom and hallway, loaded with printed art.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST The difference between a room and a dorm costs about four dollars a wall. Using the same frames everywhere means one reorder and a consistent look across every listing photo.

$15–$25

The Two-Dollar Discipline CLOTHES HOOKS

We mount one sturdy hook in every bedroom and bathroom, always into a stud.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST Towels and jackets stop living on doorknobs, and the drywall stops needing patches at turnover.

$10–$15

The Wall-Saver DOORSTOP

We install one on every door in the house, on principle.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST It costs pennies now instead of drywall patching later. The most boring item on this list pays for itself in the first week.

UNDER $10

The Right Size IN-ROOM TRASH CAN

At 1.5 gallons, it is big enough to use and small enough that it actually gets emptied.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST Room trash stays in the room instead of migrating to the kitchen.

UNDER $10

EVERY ITEM ON THIS PAGE IS LINKED LIVE AT COLIVINGOPERATIONS.COM/FURNISHINGS

The Closet Stand-In CLOTHES HANGER BAR

The bar mounts into studs at standard closet height.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST It gives closet-grade hanging storage to rooms that never had a closet. We are replacing fabric wardrobes with these across the portfolio, because wardrobes collapse and walls don't.

$10–$15

The Flat-Pack Hero ROLLING FOLDING SHELVEING

It arrives assembled, unfolds in seconds, rolls where it's needed, and stores flat when it isn't.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST This is the flexibility piece for rooms whose needs change between residents.

$40–$60

The Soft Option COLLAPSIBLE FABRIC CUBES

These lightweight cubes organize clothes and linens without adding bulky furniture.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST Our line in the sand is simple: cubes yes, fabric wardrobes never. Cubes organize; wardrobes pretend to be furniture until they fall over.

$15–$25

The Space-Maker WALL MIRROR

This rustic rectangular mirror mounts to studs — we never lean mirrors against walls.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST It makes a small room read larger and bounces light into the listing photo, which is a cheap perception win.

$15–$25

EVERY ITEM ON THIS PAGE IS LINKED LIVE AT COLIVINGOPERATIONS.COM/FURNISHINGS

*The Cord TamerMOUNTED POWER STRIP

The strip screws to the wall and fits a duplex outlet exactly.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST Premium rooms get power where people actually sit, and mounting it means it never dangles behind the furniture.

UNDER $10

*The Front LinePRIVATE-ENTRY SMART DEADBOLT

Bedrooms with their own exterior door get a deadbolt with keypad, app, and mechanical-key entry.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST Exterior doors earn deadbolts. It runs on the same code system as the rest of the house, so management stays inside one app.

◆ DEPLOYED AS STANDARD · COLIVING OPERATIONS PROPERTY SERVICES

$60-$85

*The CompanionPASSAGE DOOR HANDLE

This heavy-duty, corrosion-resistant handle pairs underneath the deadbolt.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST The handle does the daily work so the deadbolt only has to do security.

$10-$15

OPERATOR'S TIPBuy the Spare Now

Every multi-pack leftover in this issue has a destination: the admin closet. Spares bought with the house cost pack-price; spares bought during an emergency cost a vacancy.

EVERY ITEM ON THIS PAGE IS LINKED LIVE AT COLIVINGOPERATIONS.COM/FURNISHINGS

FROM THE PUBLISHER · THE LIVING CATALOG

This Issue, One Click Deep

colivingoperations.com/furnishings — every item in this magazine, linked live

Print can't take you to checkout, and Amazon's rules say it shouldn't try. The online catalog carries every item in this issue with live links, current prices, and the exact variants we buy for our own portfolio. When a product dies or a better one earns its place, the list updates the same week — the page in your hands never goes stale, because the destination doesn't.

- ◆ All 92 items, organized room by room
- ◆ Live pricing and availability, straight from the source
- ◆ Dead links retired and replacements added the week they change
- ◆ The same list our setup teams order from

Free to browse

COLIVINGOPERATIONS.COM/FURNISHINGS

As an Amazon Associate, CoLiving Operations earns from qualifying purchases made through the online catalog.

CLIMATE, CONTROLLED

The Thermostat Wars

Twelve people, one air conditioner, and the midnight battle every shared home fights exactly once — if the operator wins it.

The message arrived at 11:58 on a winter night: the thermostat at one of our houses read 83 degrees. A resident had decided the whole building should live at sauna temperature, and eleven other leases disagreed. The team adjusted it remotely before midnight, and the next visit added the fix that made it permanent: a clear locking box over the thermostat, opened by a punch code that cleaners and vendors carry and residents do not.

The hardware behind that story is deliberately boring. We standardized on the Sensi Lite across more than fifty homes for one unglamorous reason: it works without a C-wire, which means it installs in the older houses this business actually runs on, in any market, without an electrician. One app shows every property. When a resident reports a cold house, we check the screen before we roll a truck — remote eyes have cancelled more technician dispatches than any other tool we own.

Problem homes get an upgrade path. Large floor plans and tired AC systems go to a thermostat that averages up to twenty room sensors, so the far bedroom stops lying about the whole house. Rooms that run hot get a register booster fan — a targeted fix that costs less than a duct consultation.

And the residents? They keep a comfort dial we never lock: the ceiling fan. Every bedroom has one, chosen with ordinary bulbs so a resident can change one without a service call. We call it the illusion of control. It works, and everyone sleeps.

“Remote eyes have cancelled more technician dispatches than any other tool we own.”

CLIMATE, CONTROLLED · FIELD NOTES

Sourced from CoLiving Operations meeting notes and operating SOPs, 2025–2026.

Department 02

The Bathroom

Nobody compliments a bathroom; they only remember a bad one. Every fixture here is chosen to take a beating and be forgotten.

11 ITEMS · SHOT AT 8139 KENTON STREET, HOUSTON

*The Daily DetailTOILET PAPER ROLL HOLDER

We chose this wall-mounted holder because the usual ones snap under shared use. This one doesn't.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST The most-used fixture in the house should be the least memorable.

$10–$15

*The Fit-AnythingSHOWER CURTAIN ROD

One rod fits nearly every shower layout we encounter.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST A single SKU keeps the parts list short and makes reorders automatic.

$10–$15

*The ReplaceableLINER + CURTAIN COMBO

The liner and curtain come as one all-plastic piece, color-matched to the house.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST We replace it at turnover instead of laundering it. It is cheap enough that clean never becomes a judgment call.

UNDER $10

EDITOR'S PICK*The Bill TrimmerLOW-FLOW SHOWER HEAD

It delivers 1.25 gallons per minute with pressure compensation, and one goes in every bathroom.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST A house full of daily showers notices this immediately. It is the first thing we install when a water bill comes in hot.

◆ DEPLOYED AS STANDARD · COLIVING OPERATIONS PROPERTY SERVICES

$10–$15

EVERY ITEM ON THIS PAGE IS LINKED LIVE AT COLIVINGOPERATIONS.COM/FURNISHINGS

The Right Lock
PRIVACY LOCK

A thumb-turn lock secures the door from inside; on shared baths we sometimes add a chain as well.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST Bathrooms never get keyed locks, because a locked-out bathroom at seven in the morning becomes a house-wide event.

$10–$15

The Backup
DOOR CHAIN

The chain adds a visible second layer of privacy on shared bathroom doors.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST It costs almost nothing and makes a shared bathroom feel private.

UNDER $10

The Soft Landing
BATH MAT

A non-slip, quick-drying mat sits in front of every shower, in the house color.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST It reduces slips and prevents mess, and matching the mats to the house theme is one of those small touches guests notice without knowing why.

UNDER $10

EDITOR'S PICK

The Drain Defender
DRAIN HAIR CATCHERS

One sits in every shower and sink drain, and our cleaners check them on every visit.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST A clogged drain is a plumber call; a hair catcher is a rinse. This one line item has saved us more service tickets than anything else in the bathroom.

◆ DEPLOYED AS STANDARD · COLIVING OPERATIONS PROPERTY SERVICES

$25–$40

EVERY ITEM ON THIS PAGE IS LINKED LIVE AT COLIVINGOPERATIONS.COM/FURNISHINGS

The First Responder

PLUNGER

Each bathroom gets its own full-size plunger, replaced annually.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST Residents solve most clogs themselves when the tool is standing right there — no ticket, no visit, no fee.

$10–$15

The Plumber-Saver

DO-NOT-FLUSH SIGN

We post this small sign at every toilet.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST It heads off the most expensive plumbing call in the house. It is the least glamorous item in this issue and possibly the highest return.

UNDER $10

Day-One Ready

TOILET PAPER, FIRST STOCK

Every bathroom is stocked before the first move-in, and the extras live in the admin closet.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST A stocked bathroom on day one sets the tone for how the whole house treats itself.

$15–$25

OPERATOR'S TIP

Never Launder the Protector

A washed protector is a warranty nobody can verify. New one at every turn — the trash can is part of the system.

EVERY ITEM ON THIS PAGE IS LINKED LIVE AT COLIVINGOPERATIONS.COM/FURNISHINGS

THE UTILITY BILL

The Water Playbook

Twelve daily showers will find every inefficiency in a house. Here is the checklist that finds them first.

When a water bill comes in hot, we do not start with a lecture to the house group chat. We start with hardware, because hardware never forgets. The first install is a 1.25-gallon-per-minute shower head with pressure compensation in every bathroom — the single fastest payback in the building. Faucets get aerator tips. Toilets get inspected for silent running on every cleaning visit, because a running toilet is a utility bill with no witnesses.

Bathtubs get special attention. Where a remodel allows, the tub goes entirely and a shower takes its place. Where it stays, we disable the tub spigot diverter so only the shower runs — a full tub is sixty gallons that nobody needed. Outside, spigot caps keep the garden hose from becoming a public utility.

None of this touches resident comfort. Pressure-compensated heads feel normal; aerators feel identical; nobody has ever missed the tub spigot. The bill simply stops climbing, and in a house where the operator pays utilities, that difference lands directly on the bottom line, every month, forever.

“A running toilet is a utility bill with no witnesses.”

Department 03

The Entry

First impressions and controlled access happen at the same door.

9 ITEMS · SHOT AT 8139 KENTON STREET, HOUSTON

The Front Line

SMART DEADBOLT + KEYPAD

The exterior door gets keypad, app, and mechanical-key entry, and it installs in under an hour.

Every resident, cleaner, and vendor carries their own code on its own schedule. The audit trail alone is worth the hardware.

Operator's note: the audit trail is the quiet feature. When a package walks or a policy is argued, the deadbolt's log and the porch camera end the conversation in two minutes.

$60-
$85

◆ DEPLOYED AS STANDARD · COLIVING OPERATIONS PROPERTY SERVICES

SHOP THE LIST ·
COLIVINGOPERATIONS.COM/FURNISHINGS

*The WorkhorsePASSAGE DOOR HANDLE

A corrosion-resistant handle pairs underneath the deadbolt.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST The handle takes the daily abuse so the deadbolt only has to do security.

$10–$15

*The FailoverKEYBOX

The front door's backup key lives here, behind a punch code.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST Batteries die. Backups shouldn't require a locksmith.

◆ DEPLOYED AS STANDARD · COLIVING OPERATIONS PROPERTY SERVICES

UNDER $10

*The Dirt GateFLOOR MAT

It traps dirt and moisture at the threshold before they enter the house.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST It costs less than the mopping it prevents — every month, forever.

UNDER $10

*The WitnessEXTERIOR CAMERA

We mount one at each exterior entrance, covering the door and the approach.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST Package disputes, guest-policy questions, and insurance claims all end the same way: check the camera.

$85–$130

EVERY ITEM ON THIS PAGE IS LINKED LIVE AT COLIVINGOPERATIONS.COM/FURNISHINGS

*The Set-and-ForgetCAMERA SOLAR PANEL

The panel keeps the camera charged without any wiring.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST Nobody climbs a ladder to swap camera batteries. You install it once and forget it.

$25-$40

*The Policy AnchorNO-GUESTS SIGN

It states the guest policy right at the door.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST A rule argued at move-in is a rule; a rule posted on the door is physics.

UNDER $10

*The Legal LayerNO-TRESPASSING SIGNS

These are posted at every entrance.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST In many jurisdictions, this sign is what allows law enforcement to actually remove someone. It is a cheap sign with real teeth.

UNDER $10

*The DeterrentCAMERAS-IN-USE SIGNS

Printed aluminum signs announce the cameras at each entrance.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST Half of a camera's value is people knowing it's there.

UNDER $10

EVERY ITEM ON THIS PAGE IS LINKED LIVE AT COLIVINGOPERATIONS.COM/FURNISHINGS

ACCESS

The 2 A.M. Lockout That Wasn't

A dead battery, a resident on the porch, and the ninety-second fix that was screwed to the wall a year earlier.

The call every operator dreads comes after midnight: the code will not take, the door will not open, and the resident's phone is at nine percent. In most portfolios that call ends with a locksmith invoice or an owner driving across town in pajamas. In ours it ends in about ninety seconds, because the answer was installed the day the room was furnished.

Beside every bedroom door hangs a keybox with a punch code. Inside is the room's mechanical backup key, clipped to a tether screwed into the wall — a trick borrowed from a fellow operator — so the key can open the door but never leave the doorway. We read the box code over the phone, the resident is inside within a minute, and the battery gets swapped from the admin closet's thirty-two-pack the next morning.

The locks themselves are chosen for exactly this failure mode. Bluetooth instead of WiFi, because Bluetooth sips battery where WiFi drains it. A gateway upstairs gives them remote reach anyway — and the gateway lives inside its own coded lockbox, because an unplugged gateway is a dead nervous system and residents are curious. Interior doors get handle locks, never deadbolts; a deadbolt on a bedroom door is a code violation in most cities and a fire-marshal conversation nobody enjoys.

Layers, not heroics. The smart lock handles every ordinary day. The keybox handles the extraordinary ones. The owner sleeps through both.

“The key can open the door but never leave the doorway.”

ACCESS · FIELD NOTES

Sourced from CoLiving Operations meeting notes and operating SOPs, 2025–2026.

Department 04

Halls & House Systems

The connective tissue: climate, connectivity, and the quiet machinery that keeps twelve strangers comfortable.

9 ITEMS · SHOT AT 8139 KENTON STREET, HOUSTON

The Standard-Bearer

SENSI LITE SMART THERMOSTAT

This WiFi thermostat works without a C-wire, which is exactly why it fits the older homes this business runs on. One goes in per HVAC zone.

We standardized on Sensi across more than fifty homes: same hardware, same app, any city. Remote monitoring has saved us more technician dispatches than any other device we own.

Operator's note: it was chosen for the homes we actually buy — older, C-wire-less, in eleven markets. One app, every property, and the install video does the training.

★ 4.1 · 2,100+ ratings

$60–
$85

◆ DEPLOYED AS STANDARD · COLIVING OPERATIONS
PROPERTY SERVICES

SHOP THE LIST ·
COLIVINGOPERATIONS.COM/FURNISHINGS

EDITOR'S PICK

*The PeacekeeperTHERMOSTAT LOCKBOX

A clear locking cover protects the thermostat, with a punch code that cleaners and vendors can use.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST We once watched a tenant set a house to 83 degrees at midnight. The lockbox is why it only happened once: twelve people, one set point, zero debates.

◆ DEPLOYED AS STANDARD · COLIVING OPERATIONS PROPERTY SERVICES

$10–$15

*The Dead-Spot EraserEERO 6 MESH WIFI

The mesh system covers homes up to 4,500 square feet and is managed entirely from an app.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST In a house of strangers, every room needs full bars — internet complaints arrive with room numbers attached. Mesh coverage is the difference between a complaint and a renewal.

◆ DEPLOYED AS STANDARD · COLIVING OPERATIONS PROPERTY SERVICES

★ 4.5 · 28,000+ ratings

$130–$200

*The On-RampBLUETOOTH GATEWAY

The gateway is the bridge that puts the Bluetooth smart locks online for remote code management.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST Bluetooth locks sip battery, and the gateway gives them WiFi reach anyway. We run three per house, each inside its own lockbox.

◆ DEPLOYED AS STANDARD · COLIVING OPERATIONS PROPERTY SERVICES

$25–$40

*The Missing Piece90° USB PLUGS

These low-profile right-angle plugs power the gateways inside their lockboxes.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST Gateways ship without wall plugs. Buy these at the same time or plan a second trip — we learned that one the annoying way.

$10–$15

EVERY ITEM ON THIS PAGE IS LINKED LIVE AT COLIVINGOPERATIONS.COM/FURNISHINGS

*The Landing ZoneMAIL TABLE

A narrow bar-height table stands by the entry.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST Mail gets one home instead of twelve counters. Order arrives; chaos doesn't.

$40-$60

*The LabelMAIL SIGN

The sign says what the table is for, so nobody has to.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST Signage is management you never have to repeat.

UNDER $10

*The Fast FastenerSTICKY MOUNTING TAPE

This tape mounts signs and lightweight items throughout the house.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST Half of this magazine attaches to walls, and this is what attaches the light half.

UNDER $10

*The Firm Handshake2-INCH SCREWS

These anchor everything that must not move into studs.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST Hooks, bars, mounts, and rods go into studs every time. This box holds the entire no-drywall-patches philosophy.

UNDER $10

EVERY ITEM ON THIS PAGE IS LINKED LIVE AT COLIVINGOPERATIONS.COM/FURNISHINGS

FROM THE PUBLISHER · THE EDUVACATION

Bring the Portfolio. Leave the Laptop Bag.

The CoLiving Operations Mastermind · Moon Palace, Cancún

Some problems don't fix on a weekly call. The Mastermind eduvacation puts a small room of serious operators on a beach in Cancún for several days of working sessions: your numbers on the screen, your market on the table, your next acquisition argued over dinner. Mornings are structured; afternoons are built for the reason they call it an eduvacation. Bring a spouse — the resort is all-inclusive, and only you have homework.

- ◆ Small-group working sessions with Dave and operators ahead of you
- ◆ Your portfolio reviewed line by line
- ◆ All-inclusive resort stay at Moon Palace, Cancún
- ◆ Built to return more than it costs

Applications open

DETAILS AT COLIVINGOPERATIONS.COM

Seats are limited by design. Members of the Premium community hear first.

COLD STORAGE POLITICS

The Fridge Doctrine

Nothing starts a house war faster than a missing dinner. The peace treaty costs about six hundred dollars a unit and comes with shelves.

Ask an experienced operator what breaks a house first and the answer is rarely rent. It is refrigerator space. Twelve people cannot share the fridge that served a family of four, and the arguments that follow do not stay in the kitchen.

The doctrine is simple. Garage-style units — around five to six hundred dollars each, shelves only, no drawers, because drawers become disputed territory and shelves become addresses. A ten-bedroom home gets three units: two refrigerators and a freezer. Every shelf is taped and numbered with the room it belongs to, using the same one-inch stickers that number the cabinets.

The numbering is the whole trick. When shelf four belongs to room four, a missing dinner has a suspect pool of one, and most food disputes end before they start. The kitchen cameras — common areas only, covering the fridge and sink zones — settle the rest. A kitchen with a memory is a remarkably honest place.

It is the cheapest diplomacy in shared housing: one label maker, one afternoon, and a fridge for every six residents. Community needs chairs, as the dining-table rule goes. It needs shelf space just as much.

“When shelf four belongs to room four, a missing dinner has a suspect pool of one.”

COLD STORAGE POLITICS · FIELD NOTES

Sourced from CoLiving Operations meeting notes and operating SOPs, 2025–2026.

Department 05

The Kitchen

The town square. Everything in it is chosen to survive twelve people's Monday mornings.

13 ITEMS · SHOT AT 8139 KENTON STREET, HOUSTON

EDITOR'S PICK

The Island Crew

METAL BAR STOOLS

These 24-inch matte black steel stools are made for counter seating that gets used hard three times a day.

In an island kitchen they replace the dining set entirely. Reviewers arrived braced for rust and dents and found neither.

Operator's note: seating is sized to the bedroom count, not the countertop. If the house sleeps twelve, twelve should be able to eat at once — community needs chairs.

★ 4.5 · verified buyers

$85–$130

SHOP THE LIST · COLIVINGOPERATIONS.COM/FURNISHINGS

*The Gathering PointROUND DINING TABLE

Kitchens without an island get a compact round table instead.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST Size the seating to the bedroom count: a four-seat table in a large house means people eat standing up or drift back to their rooms. Community needs chairs.

$85–$130

*The SurvivorsMETAL DINING CHAIRS

These stackable metal chairs are built for everyday shared use.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST Wooden chairs loosen over time; metal ones shrug it off. Because they stack, cleaning day takes minutes.

$85–$130

*The Morning RitualKEURIG K-EXPRESS

It brews one cup at a time in three sizes, with a strong-brew button and no shared carafe to fight over.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST Pod coffee is the only coffee format that survives twelve different schedules. The welcome-kit K-cups make move-in day smell right.

★ 4.3 · 49,000+ ratings

$60–$85

*The Counter-SaverCOMPACT TOASTER OVEN

It covers most reheating jobs without surrendering the counter.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST It is cheap enough to replace without a meeting, which in a shared kitchen counts as a feature.

$25–$40

EVERY ITEM ON THIS PAGE IS LINKED LIVE AT COLIVINGOPERATIONS.COM/FURNISHINGS

The Replaceable

COUNTERTOP MICROWAVE

We buy countertop instead of built-in on purpose.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST When a built-in dies you book a contractor; when this dies you carry a new one in from the car. We have swapped them between houses in a single afternoon.

$85–$130

The Required Guest

FIRE EXTINGUISHER

It hangs mounted, visible, and required.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST This is the one item you buy hoping to waste your money.

$25–$40

EDITOR'S PICK

The Silent Guardian

STOVETOP FIRE STOP

These automatic suppression canisters mount above the range.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST Unattended cooking is the number-one risk in a shared kitchen. These handle the thirty seconds nobody was watching.

◆ DEPLOYED AS STANDARD · COLIVING OPERATIONS PROPERTY SERVICES

$40–$60

The Honest Policy

INTERIOR CAMERAS

They watch the common areas only, covering the fridge and sink zones.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST Food disputes and cleanliness arguments resolve themselves when everyone knows the kitchen has a memory.

$60–$85

EVERY ITEM ON THIS PAGE IS LINKED LIVE AT COLIVINGOPERATIONS.COM/FURNISHINGS

The House Voice

KITCHEN RULES SIGN

It posts the clean-as-you-go rules where the mess actually happens.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST The sign has the argument so you don't have to.

UNDER $10

The Workhorse

TRASH CAN, 13 GALLON

A simple plastic can does the job and costs little to replace.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST Fancy cans die the same death as cheap ones — just slower and pricier.

$15–$25

The Long Runway

TRASH BAGS, 200 COUNT

Two hundred bags at a time, because this is infrastructure, not shopping.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST Trash bags, paper towels, toilet paper, and soap are the disposables that decide whether a house feels managed.

$15–$25

The Quiet System

NUMBERING STICKERS

We number fridge shelves and cabinets by room with these.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST Everyone knows whose shelf is whose, so most food disputes end before they start.

UNDER $10

EVERY ITEM ON THIS PAGE IS LINKED LIVE AT COLIVINGOPERATIONS.COM/FURNISHINGS

OPERATIONS

Anatomy of a Turn

A resident moves out at noon. By evening the room is rentable. The twenty-dollar item at the center of that trick gets counted like cash.

Every turnover at every property starts the same way: the mattress protector comes off and goes in the trash. Not the wash — the trash. A brand-new encapsulation protector zips on before the next photo is taken, because a protector that has been through a laundry cycle is a warranty nobody can verify. The mattress underneath, protected since day one, stays in service for years.

We treat that twenty-dollar item with the seriousness most companies reserve for payroll. Ten-packs sit staged in every admin closet. Our cleaning company files a monthly inventory report — total protectors on hand, protectors in cars, protectors installed that month. When a contractor once skipped the install, the correction was a rush order and a return trip, because a tenant was arriving and the standard does not bend for scheduling.

The rest of the turn runs off the same closet: the lock code dies the hour the lease ends and the new one starts working the hour the next lease signs. Fresh batteries wait one shelf down from the welcome kit — paper towels, toilet paper, and two K-cups placed in the bedroom, a two-dollar gesture that shows up in reviews.

A turn that needs a shopping trip is a turn that takes a week. A turn that walks to the closet takes an afternoon, and an afternoon is the difference between a vacancy and a footnote.

“A turn that needs a shopping trip takes a week. A turn that walks to the closet takes an afternoon.”

OPERATIONS · FIELD NOTES

Sourced from CoLiving Operations meeting notes and operating SOPs, 2025–2026.

Department 06

Utility & Laundry

Where clean lives. Stocked once, restocked on a schedule, never improvised.

10 ITEMS · SHOT AT 8139 KENTON STREET, HOUSTON

The Supply Rack

ROLLING FOLDING SHELVE

These pre-assembled rolling shelves hold the house's cleaning supplies.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST When supplies have a home, restocking becomes a glance instead of a search.

$40–$60

The Floor Clearer

WALL GRIPPERS

They hold the mop, broom, and Swiffer up off the floor.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST Tools on walls survive; tools in corners multiply and vanish.

$10–$15

The Quick Pass

SWIFFER STARTER KIT

This wet/dry kit handles fast floor cleanups.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST Residents deal with small messes themselves when the tool takes ten seconds to grab.

$15–$25

The Restock

SWIFFER WET REFILLS

These are the wet-pad refills for the kit above.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST An empty refill box is how quick cleanups stop happening.

UNDER $10

EVERY ITEM ON THIS PAGE IS LINKED LIVE AT COLIVINGOPERATIONS.COM/FURNISHINGS

The Restock, Pt. 2

SWIFFER DRY REFILLS

The dry pads restock the same kit.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST The same rule applies: stock beats intention.

$10–$15

The Deep Clean

MOP & BUCKET

This pair handles the real messes.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST Replacement heads live in the admin closet, so the mop never becomes the thing spreading the dirt.

$25–$40

The Basics

BROOM & DUSTPAN

The basics, kept where anyone can find them.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST A house where the broom has a home stays swept.

$10–$15

The Grab-and-Go

DISINFECTANT WIPES

One canister stays out, and the rest are stocked in the admin closet for the cleaning team.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST Wipes within reach get used. That is the entire strategy.

$10–$15

EVERY ITEM ON THIS PAGE IS LINKED LIVE AT COLIVINGOPERATIONS.COM/FURNISHINGS

The Reset

DISINFECTANT SPRAY

One can stays out and the spares stay stored.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST Turnovers and sick weeks both end with this can.

$15–$25

The Referee

LAUNDRY RULES SIGN

The house rules for shared machines are posted exactly where the arguments happen.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST Homes over eight bedrooms get two washers and two dryers, sized on site. Either way, the sign keeps the queue civil.

UNDER $10

OPERATOR'S TIP

Codes, Not Keys

Cleaners and vendors get their own door codes on their own schedules. Nobody meets anybody in a parking lot to hand off metal.

OPERATOR'S TIP

Photograph the Standard

Shoot every room the day it goes live. The photos rent the room, settle deposit disputes, and double as an inventory record.

EVERY ITEM ON THIS PAGE IS LINKED LIVE AT COLIVINGOPERATIONS.COM/FURNISHINGS

FIELD LESSONS

What We Learned the Expensive Way

Eight months of carrying costs, a red-tagged property, and a gas bill nobody opened. The tuition was real; the lessons are free.

Two clients did not know their properties had gas lines. One of them operated for eight months without paying a gas bill he did not know existed, until the utility shut off service, the re-light inspection found leaks, and the repair became a full replumb. The lesson costs nothing to read: open the inspection report, all of it, and know every meter on your building.

Another client delayed turning on the gas before a rehab. When the utility's inspector finally came to check the line, he recognized unpermitted work from a previous visit and red-tagged the property — eight months of carrying costs with no income, on a house that was otherwise ready. The rule we operate by now is absolute: every utility on, day one, before a single wall opens.

Permitting followed the same arc from optional to gospel. We permit everything and label generously — the plans can call an added room a sitting room or a craft room; what matters is that the physical structure is inspected and legal. A permitted property cannot be red-tagged on a whim, protects its exit value, and gives a remote owner the only assurance that actually holds up: paper.

Insurance completes the checklist. Shared housing costs two to four times standard landlord coverage, and underwriters have long memories. The two rules that keep premiums honest are printed elsewhere in this issue as furniture: interconnected smoke alarms in every room, and a hard ban on space heaters — the number-one cause of non-smoking fires in shared homes. Some tuition should only be paid once, and preferably by someone else.

“Every utility on, day one, before a single wall opens.”

FIELD LESSONS · FIELD NOTES

Sourced from CoLiving Operations meeting notes and operating SOPs, 2025–2026.

Department 07

The Admin Closet

The locked room behind the whole operation: turnover stock, welcome kits, and every spare the multi-packs left behind.

12 ITEMS · SHOT AT 8139 KENTON STREET, HOUSTON

*Staff OnlySIFELY SMART LOCK

The closet door gets its own punch code. Cleaners and vendors receive codes; residents don't.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST Our central supply points all run the same way — a shelf, a punch-code lock, and a camera. Inventory that used to walk away stopped walking.

◆ DEPLOYED AS STANDARD · COLIVING OPERATIONS PROPERTY SERVICES

$40–$60

*The FailoverKEYBOX

The closet's own backup key lives here.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST Even the backup system gets a backup.

◆ DEPLOYED AS STANDARD · COLIVING OPERATIONS PROPERTY SERVICES

UNDER $10

EDITOR'S PICK*The Turn KitMATTRESS PROTECTORS, 10-PACK

Bulk protectors sit staged and ready for turnovers.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST Every turn gets a brand-new protector, never a washed one. The cleaner's monthly inventory report covers exactly this shelf.

◆ DEPLOYED AS STANDARD · COLIVING OPERATIONS PROPERTY SERVICES

$130–$200

*The Five-Minute FixLIGHTBULBS, BULK

The bulbs are matched to the house's fixtures.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST A dark room is a complaint; a stocked shelf is a five-minute fix. For simple fixtures, we have even mailed a resident a bulb.

$15–$25

EVERY ITEM ON THIS PAGE IS LINKED LIVE AT COLIVINGOPERATIONS.COM/FURNISHINGS

*The Lock FeederAA BATTERIES, 32-PACK

Smart locks eat AA batteries, so we stock them by the box.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST A dead lock battery with no batteries on site is a lockout. With this shelf, it is a five-minute swap.

$15–$25

*The Alarm Feeder9V BATTERIES, 24-PACK

These keep the smoke detectors fed.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST A chirping detector gets fixed on the same visit it is reported.

$25–$40

*The Small UpgradeFAUCET FILTER TIPS

These replacement aerators fit the kitchen and bathroom sinks.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST They are part of the water-bill playbook, alongside the low-flow shower heads.

UNDER $10

*The RefreshMOP HEAD REPLACEMENTS

Six replacement heads stay staged here.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST A fresh head keeps the mop an asset instead of the thing spreading the dirt.

$15–$25

EVERY ITEM ON THIS PAGE IS LINKED LIVE AT COLIVINGOPERATIONS.COM/FURNISHINGS

*The UnderstudySPARE SHOWER CURTAIN

One color-matched spare hangs ready.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST Turnovers don't wait for shipping.

UNDER $10

*The GreetingPAPER TOWELS, BULK

Paper towels go into every move-in welcome kit.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST A stocked first week teaches residents what the house's normal looks like.

$25–$40

*The EssentialTOILET PAPER, BULK

This is welcome-kit stock, kept in bulk.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST Nobody's first hour in a new home should include a store run.

$15–$25

*The First CoffeeK-CUPS, 100-COUNT

We place two in each bedroom at every turn.

WHY IT'S ON THE LIST It is a two-dollar gesture that shows up in reviews.

$40–$60

EVERY ITEM ON THIS PAGE IS LINKED LIVE AT COLIVINGOPERATIONS.COM/FURNISHINGS

The Turn Kit

MATTRESS PROTECTORS, 10-PACK

Bulk protectors sit staged and ready for turnovers.

Every turn gets a brand-new protector, never a washed one. The cleaner's monthly inventory report covers exactly this shelf.

Operator's note: the cleaning company reports this shelf monthly — on hand, in cars, installed. When a twenty-dollar item gets audited like cash, mattresses stop being a capital expense.

$130–
$200

◆ DEPLOYED AS STANDARD · COLIVING OPERATIONS
PROPERTY SERVICES

SHOP THE LIST ·
COLIVINGOPERATIONS.COM/FURNISHINGS

OVERHEARD ON THE WEDNESDAY CALL

“

“A kitchen with a memory is a remarkably honest place.”

FIELD NOTES · THE COMMONS

“Cubes organize; wardrobes pretend to be furniture until they fall over.”

FIELD NOTES · STORAGE

“Stock beats intention.”

FIELD NOTES · THE UTILITY ROOM

FROM THE PUBLISHER · COLIVING OPERATIONS PROPERTY SERVICES

We Built the Machine. Let Us Run It for You.

Full-service co-living management, by the team behind this issue

Every lock, code, protector count, and 2 a.m. protocol in this magazine is a thing our property services team does every day — across Houston, Dallas, Austin, Atlanta, Denver, Miami, Tampa, Nashville, Knoxville, Phoenix and more. Full-service onboarding covers procurement and staging of the complete 92-item master list, resident placement with real screening, vendor management, and a ticket queue where nothing sits overnight. Team coverage runs 8 a.m. to midnight, with Dave personally on the overnight line. One client measured the difference: forty hours a week running his own houses, down to two.

- ◆ Complete setup: we order, stage, and install the master list
- ◆ Resident placement, screening, and house-rule enforcement
- ◆ The 2 a.m. line: emergencies handled while you sleep
- ◆ $350 onboarding per property · $350/month each for your first five · volume pricing from six

$350/mo per property BOOK A CALL · COLIVINGOPERATIONS.COM/BOOK-A-CALL

Prefer to run it yourself? The education side of the house is on page 2 — same SOPs, your labor.

Twelve Strangers, One House — Your Questions

Q Why full-size beds and not queens?

A One SKU across every room keeps ordering simple, and the price gap funds a protector. As the master list puts it: twin beds are for children and convicts, and a king invites couples — which doubles wear on a room priced for one.

Q Can I use a space heater in a cold room?

A No — and we deny them on the recommended list on purpose. Space heaters are the leading cause of non-smoking house fires. The fix for a cold room is a register booster fan, a sensor thermostat, or an HVAC visit.

Q Fabric wardrobes are cheap. Why the ban?

A Because they collapse. Every fabric wardrobe is a future photo of clothes on a floor and a resident who feels like the room is falling apart. A wall-mounted hanger bar with soft cubes costs about the same and bolts to a stud.

Q Why does every door in the house get a door stop?

A Because a door handle through drywall is the most common turnover repair in shared housing, and a door stop costs pennies. We install them on principle before the first move-in.

Questions drawn from the community's monthly Q&A and the weekly working calls.

ASK THE OPERATOR, CONTINUED

Q Do interior cameras bother residents?

A Common areas only, posted openly, covering the fridge and sink. Residents come to like them: a kitchen with a memory means their groceries stop disappearing and nobody argues about whose dishes those were.

Q What actually keeps residents from leaving?

A Responsiveness. Nothing sits in the ticket queue: new, in progress, completed, closed. Clear rules enforced consistently, full WiFi bars in every room, and blackout in every bedroom. Sleep is a retention strategy.

Q How many refrigerators does a big house need?

A One fridge per six residents, garage-style with shelves only, plus a freezer. A ten-bedroom home runs two refrigerators and one freezer, every shelf taped and numbered by room. See The Fridge Doctrine in this issue.

Q What goes in the welcome kit?

A Paper towels, toilet paper, and two K-cups placed in the bedroom before move-in — stocked from the admin closet at every turn. It costs about two dollars and shows up in reviews.

Questions drawn from the community's monthly Q&A and the weekly working calls.

ON LOCATION A furnished room the day it went live: full bed, folding desk, wall-mounted TV, fan overhead. Every item is on the master list — and in this issue.

ON LOCATION The same standard, another door: made bed, art at eye line, and the blue doors that mark every room at Kenton. A resident should recognize the quality before reading the room number.

ON LOCATION Desk in the corner, made bed, nothing on the floor. Rooms photographed like this rent from the photo alone.

ON LOCATION The shared bath, day one: privacy lock, fresh liner, stocked paper. Nobody compliments it — which is the point.

ON LOCATION The commons at 8139 Kenton Street. The island seats the house; the numbered fridge keeps the peace. The Fridge Doctrine, as built.

ON LOCATION Desk under the window, protector zipped under fresh linen. The twenty-dollar item is invisible in every photo — and in every one of them.

The Index

Departments 01–03 · the complete list

EVERY ITEM BELOW IS LINKED LIVE AT COLIVINGOPERATIONS.COM/FURNISHINGS

01 · THE BEDROOM

Metal Platform Bed Frame	$85–$130
Green Tea Memory Foam Mattress	$200– $250
Encapsulation Mattress Protector	$15–$25
Open-Shelf Nightstand	$15–$25
Bedside Light with Outlets	$15–$25
Folding Desk	$60–$85
Mesh-Back Office Chair	$25–$40
Smart TV	$85–$130
TV Wall Mount	$10–$15
Blackout Drapes	$15–$25
Heavy-Duty Curtain Rod	$10–$15
Ceiling Fan	$85–$130
Interconnected Smoke + CO Alarms	$200– $250
Sifely Smart Lock	$40–$60
Keybox	under $10
Door Chain	under $10
Door Numbers	under $10
Wall Art Frames	$15–$25
Clothes Hooks	$10–$15
Door Stop	under $10
In-Room Trash Can	under $10
Clothes Hanger Bar	$10–$15
Rolling Folding Shelving	$40–$60
Collapsible Fabric Cubes	$15–$25
Wall Mirror	$15–$25
Mounted Power Strip	under $10
Private-Entry Smart Deadbolt	$60–$85
Passage Door Handle	$10–$15

02 · THE BATHROOM

Toilet Paper Roll Holder	$10–$15
Shower Curtain Rod	$10–$15
Liner + Curtain Combo	under $10
Low-Flow Shower Head	$10–$15
Privacy Lock	$10–$15
Door Chain	under $10
Bath Mat	under $10
Drain Hair Catchers	$25–$40
Plunger	$10–$15
Do-Not-Flush Sign	under $10
Toilet Paper, First Stock	$15–$25

03 · THE ENTRY

Smart Deadbolt + Keypad	$60–$85
Passage Door Handle	$10–$15
Keybox	under $10
Floor Mat	under $10
Exterior Camera	$85–$130
Camera Solar Panel	$25–$40
No-Guests Sign	under $10
No-Trespassing Signs	under $10
Cameras-in-Use Signs	under $10

The Index

Departments 04–07 · the complete list

EVERY ITEM BELOW IS LINKED LIVE AT COLIVINGOPERATIONS.COM/FURNISHINGS

04 · HALLS & HOUSE SYSTEMS

Sensi Lite Smart Thermostat	$60–$85
Thermostat Lockbox	$10–$15
eero 6 Mesh WiFi	$130–$200
Bluetooth Gateway	$25–$40
90° USB Plugs	$10–$15
Mail Table	$40–$60
Mail Sign	under $10
Sticky Mounting Tape	under $10
2-Inch Screws	under $10

05 · THE KITCHEN

Metal Bar Stools	$85–$130
Round Dining Table	$85–$130
Metal Dining Chairs	$85–$130
Keurig K-Express	$60–$85
Compact Toaster Oven	$25–$40
Countertop Microwave	$85–$130
Fire Extinguisher	$25–$40
Stovetop Fire Stop	$40–$60
Interior Cameras	$60–$85
Kitchen Rules Sign	under $10
Trash Can, 13 Gallon	$15–$25
Trash Bags, 200 Count	$15–$25
Numbering Stickers	under $10

06 · UTILITY & LAUNDRY

Rolling Folding Shelving	$40–$60
Wall Grippers	$10–$15
Swiffer Starter Kit	$15–$25
Swiffer Wet Refills	under $10
Swiffer Dry Refills	$10–$15
Mop & Bucket	$25–$40
Broom & Dustpan	$10–$15
Disinfectant Wipes	$10–$15
Disinfectant Spray	$15–$25
Laundry Rules Sign	under $10

07 · THE ADMIN CLOSET

Sifely Smart Lock	$40–$60
Keybox	under $10
Mattress Protectors, 10-Pack	$130–$200
Lightbulbs, Bulk	$15–$25
AA Batteries, 32-Pack	$15–$25
9V Batteries, 24-Pack	$25–$40
Faucet Filter Tips	under $10
Mop Head Replacements	$15–$25
Spare Shower Curtain	under $10
Paper Towels, Bulk	$25–$40
Toilet Paper, Bulk	$15–$25
K-Cups, 100-Count	$40–$60

Priced on site — the four this issue can't link

Clothes washers and dryers are doubled above eight bedrooms and sized to the laundry room. HVAC air filters are sized to the unit — check the slot before ordering. The 11×14 art prints for the wall frames are chosen per house. Your setup sheet covers all four; everything else in this issue is linked live at colivingoperations.com/furnishings.

THE OPERATOR'S TIP SHEET — CLIP AND KEEP

THE STUDS RULE

Hooks, bars, mounts, and rods go into studs, every time. The entire no-drywall-patches philosophy in one sentence.

COLOR-CODE THE CHAIRS

Buy office chairs in different colors per room. When chairs wander, everyone knows where they belong.

NUMBER EVERYTHING

Rooms, fridge shelves, cabinets. When storage has an address, disputes have a suspect pool of one.

THE $300 BULB

Ceiling fans with ordinary bulbs save about $300 over integrated-LED fans — because a resident can change a bulb and an electrician changes a panel.

UTILITIES ON, DAY ONE

Before any rehab begins, every utility gets turned on. An inspector who shows up for a gas check should find nothing else to talk about.

NO OVER-RANGE MICROWAVES

A vent hood plus a countertop microwave beats the built-in: when it dies, you carry a new one in from the car.

TWO CLEANERS MINIMUM

Every property keeps two vetted cleaners and a named backup vendor per role. A sick day should never become a dirty house.

THE CORNER ENTRANCE

Avoid renting bedrooms that open into the kitchen or dining room. Noise and traffic turn those rooms over fastest — a private corner entrance fixes it.

FROM THE PUBLISHER · BEFORE YOU ORDER

Don't Type. Scan.

The whole master list, one address

You just read ninety-two reasons to open a browser. Skip retyping product names: one address holds the entire list, room by room, with the buying notes from this issue attached. Scan the code, save the page, and order the house in an afternoon.

- ◆ One URL for the complete master list
- ◆ Buying notes and pack sizes included
- ◆ Works from your phone, in the aisle or on the couch
- ◆ Kept current by the operations team

Free to browse

COLIVINGOPERATIONS.COM/FURNISHINGS

As an Amazon Associate, CoLiving Operations earns from qualifying purchases made through the online catalog.

ON LOCATION Marble-look tile and a fresh liner: the splash zone, dressed for day one.

THE LOCATION 8139 Kenton Street, Houston, TX 77028 — one working CoLiving home, photographed for this entire issue. Same playbook, same parts list, same standard on any property we run.

The Setup Checklist

Every room in this issue, reduced to one page. Tape it inside the admin closet door.

THE BEDROOM

Frame, mattress, zipped protector · nightstand + outlet lamp · folding desk + chair · TV on the wall · rod + blackout drapes · ceiling fan · linked smoke alarm · smart lock, keybox, chain, number · hook, art, door stop, trash can

THE BATHROOM

Privacy lock + chain · roll holder · rod + liner-curtain combo · low-flow head · plunger + drain catcher · do-not-flush sign · bath mat · first-stock paper

THE ENTRY

Smart deadbolt + passage handle · keybox · floor mat · camera + solar panel · no-guests, no-trespassing, cameras-in-use signs · door stop

HALLS & SYSTEMS

Thermostat + lockbox per zone · gateways in coded lockboxes + 90° plugs · mesh WiFi · linked alarms · mail table + sign · framed art

THE KITCHEN

Seating sized to the bedroom count · coffee, toaster oven, countertop microwave · extinguisher + stovetop fire stop · cameras over fridge and sink · rules sign · can + bags · numbering stickers

UTILITY & LAUNDRY

Rolling shelving + wall grippers · sweeper kit + wet/dry refills · mop, bucket, spare heads · broom · wipes + spray, spares stored · laundry rules sign

THE ADMIN CLOSET

Punch-code lock + keybox · protector 10-pack · bulbs · AA + 9V batteries · faucet tips · welcome kit: towels, paper, K-cups · spare curtain

QUESTIONS? THE WEDNESDAY CALL RUNS WEEKLY — PAGE 2.

From homes to high-performing spaces.

furnishings, edited · operations, handled

COLIVINGOPERATIONS.COM

DAVE@COLIVINGOPERATIONS.COM

The CoLiving Edit · Issue No. 01 · Summer 2026 · Printed from the operating record